PREFACE

We herewith present the second annual issue of the OFFICIAL NATIONAL ASSOCIATION BASE BALL GUIDE, to the base ball public, particularly those interested in the welfare of the minor leagues.

This guide is intended to cover all the principal features of the older guides, with a minor league flavor, and exempt from the table of figures usually found in such books. We are satisfied to let the MINOR LEAGUE GUIDE for 1903 speak for itself.

P. T. POWERS

PRESIDENT EASTERN LEAGUE AND PRESIDENT
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF PROFESSIONAL BASE BALL LEAGUES

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION SEASON OF 1902

For the first time, 1902 saw the minor leagues banded together for self-protection, and pass through the most successful season known to base ball.

The National Association formed at Chicago in the fall of 1901 developed into a most important base ball organization, comprising thirteen of the fifteen minor organizations of the entire country. The American Association and California Leagues remained outside the breastworks, caused by a misunderstanding with the Western League on the part of the Association, and the spirit of independence on the part of the California League, who have been ever slow to appreciate the benefits of organized ball.

The American Association saw the result of continual fighting and made the path clear for a meeting of their opponents and a final settlement of the trouble was consummated at the close of the season, leaving but one league outside the fold in 1903.

During the first year the National Board decided seventy-four disputes between clubs over players without a protest, with the exception of the uncalled for action of Manager Frank of the Memphis club and the officers of that club, who stood ready to knife the Southern League and organized base ball over a just decision in the St. Vrain case. This player belonged to Tacoma of the Pacific Northwest League and was so awarded. Manager Charles Frank persisted in playing the man after due notice from Secretary Farrell of the board's decision.

President Nicklin of the Southern League found that he could not force law and resigned. New Orleans, Little Rock and other clubs, with the future welfare of the game at heart, refused to play with St. Vrain in the game. Memphis then resorted to the courts, and brought suits against the league. It looked like a fight to a finish when, at the annual meeting in New York.

Manager Frank was expelled and the Memphis club suspended.

J. H. FARRELL

subject to the action of Judge Kavanaugh of Little Rock, who was elected to take Nicklin's place and right the bad mess that Memphis was getting the league into.

Charles Frank, of Memphis, Newton Fisher, of Nashville, backed up by a wealthy man from Memphis, made an effort to organize an outlaw league to parallel the Southern League, and would no doubt have succeeded in starting the new enterprise, had they been successful in forming an alliance with the American Association. A move of this kind meant a heavy loss for both leagues, and eventually the death blow to base ball in the South for many years to come.

President Thomas Hickey of the American Association did some good missionary work at Memphis, and later Judge Kavanaugh was able to bring the fighting Memphis magnates into line. Charles Frank was reinstated by the Board at the request of Judge Kavanaugh, and the impending war was called off, placing base ball once more in a prosperous attitude in the South, when the sport has the most ardent admirers of any section of the land.

While the American Association was ever ready to join the minor leagues. They were far from ready to give up any of the territory they claimed in 1902. The Western League, backed mainly by a band of fighters such as base ball never saw before, would not give up an inch of territory. It was then decided to agree to President Powers' clever plan of playing the string out with each organization having clubs in Kansas City and Milwaukee with non-conflicting schedules and respect for each other's rights.

With the American Association in line the minors were in a position to make reasonable terms with the major leagues.

The California League alone was not on good terms with the army of base ball clubs all over the country, for both the American and National Leagues practically included the minor league organizations in the peace compact at Cincinnati, and it was only a matter of time until the details of such an agreement would be worked out to the lasting benefit of all.

T. J. HICKEY,
PRESIDENT AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

On February 18 President Powers called a meeting of the National Board at the Victoria Hotel, New York. There President Powers was instructed to meet Messrs. Johnson and Pulliam and draw up a tripartite agreement with the following as a basis for the negotiations:

First—Mutual respect for contractual and reserve rights.

Second—Uniform playing rules.

Third—A Board to settle all disputes between the three bodies, to be composed of four—two from the minors and one each from the major leagues.

The drafting of players and other details was left to Messrs. Powers and Farrell.

The situation on the Pacific Coast was discussed, and the Board was a unit for giving President Lucas and the Pacific Northwest League all the assistance possible.

The outlaw California League decided to expand and place clubs in Seattle and Portland, thus making bitter war on President Lucas' prosperous little organization.

President Hickey of the American Association and President Sexton of the Western League were prevailed on to go out to the Coast at an expense to the organization of about $600 and see what they could do in the way of bringing peace to the contestants.

After looking over the field in San Francisco, Mr. Hickey reported that in his opinion it was too late to effect any compromise, that the Coast League felt that they were strongly entrenched in Portland and Seattle, had already selected their clubs for those cities, had expended considerable money for parks, etc., and would not consider any proposition to relinquish said territory.

The Pacific Northwest League was greatly incensed over the invasion of its territory, and each one of its clubs had expressed a determination to fight the invaders; Lucas had already made considerable progress toward placing clubs in 'Frisco and Los Angeles, as a retaliatory measure, and that it appeared to be too late for any compromise. Mr. Hickey also said that he had looked into the financial standing of Messrs. Hart and Coleman, the men who were to back the new club, and found them to be first class in every particular.

Messrs. Hickey and Sexton calleed on Mr. Harris, the main-spring of the Coast League, and found him quite indifferent as to the proposed invasion of 'Frisco and Los Angeles.

Mr. Sexton went to Los Angeles to see President Lucas and reported that Lucas would not listen to any proposition other than the completion of the plans he had already laid out; in fact, that he was working under positive instructions from his league; he seemed to have considered every objection that was raised to his plans; felt very confident about the staying qualities of all of his clubs, and was fully determined to parallel the Coast circuit as far as possible.

Mr. Sexton, as Chairman of the Board, requested the following notice be sent out from headquarters: "All players in the ranks of the Pacific Coast League after April 15, 1903, shall be disqualified and rendered ineligible to play with any National Association Club, except upon the full payment of all fines and penalties provided for by our National Agreement."

Secretary Farrell issued the notice, and the Pacific Coast League must now face the minor leagues as a body and steer clear of the trap the Lucas League is sure to set in the future.

By taking several players under reserve to the major league, the Pacific Coast League becomes the enemy of professional base ball and must surely find the small end in a short time.

The business of the meeting took up three days. The delegates were from all quarters of the United States and Canada, and naturally interested to meet and talk base ball to people whom they had known long by reputation. A splendid banquet, given by President P. T. Powers to all the delegates as well as the members of the press, at the Victoria Hotel, brought out the fact that many clever after-dinner speakers were interested in minor league base ball.

The prime feature of the banquet, however, was a speech by H. M. Sexton in presenting President P. T. Powers with a massive loving cup from the delegates.

By a liberal exchange of ideas, the delegates were able to legislate for the best interests of the game, and went back to their respective leagues with the assurance that the National Association was a life saver for the minors; composed of men with the welfare of the game at heart, and who were bound to place the new organization out of danger from all opposition from the major leagues.

To crystalize this sentiment, President Lucas, of the Pacific Northwest League offered the following resolution which was passed by a unanimous vote:

"That in the event of a joint invitation being extended the National Association, at any future time, to confer with the Board of Directors of the American League and the National League in the interest of a tripartite agreement, the National Board of the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues shall preserve to the National Association its present form of government and its individual organization, supreme and intact.

"Resolved, That these instructions are hereby declared to be mandatory and compulsory."

PRESIDENT MILWAUKEE CLUB

This move made it evident to all that the National Association were perfectly satisfied they could go it alone and would never again play party of the second part to self constituted authority. As Secretary Farrell well said, "Here is where we throw the tea overboard and refuse to stand for taxation without representation."

The election of officers took up very little time, the old officers being complimented by re-election without a dissenting voice.

By Mr. Clark:

That we proceed to the election of officers. Adopted.

Mr. O'Rourke of Bridgeport here assumed the chair.

Mr. Thomas F. Burns of Colorado Springs named P. T. Powers to succeed himself.

Seconds were made by Aaron Frank of Little Rock and M. H. Sexton of Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Powers was declared elected, the unanimous choice of the meeting.

Mr. Mack of Toronto, Ont., nominated J. H. Farrell for secretary-treasurer to succeed himself.

Seconds were made by Messrs. Sexton, O'Rourke, Murnane, and upon motion of Mr. Clark of Montreal, election was unanimous.

Nominations for members of the National Board of Arbitration were as follows: M. H. Sexton, Rock Island, Ill., chairman; T. H. Murnane, Boston, Mass.; J. H. O'Rourke, Bridgeport, Conn.; W. H. Lucas, Spokane, Wash.; W. M. Kavanaugh, Little Rock, Ark., and J. H. Farrell, Auburn, N. Y.

Nominations declared closed and the above board was unanimously elected.

Secretary Farrell's report was concise and contained many valuable suggestions. The introduction was as follows:

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 23, 1902.

To the National Association Members:

GENTLEMEN:—Pursuant to requirements, I have the honor herewith, to transmit my report touching the operations of the National Association; and the National Agreement, for the period commencing October 24, 1901, and ending October 23, 1902—together with such comment thereon as seems advisable—constituting the first annual report of this office.

If we are to judge by the membership of our Association, and the results attained by an overwhelming majority of the individual league, and club members, the year just closed has been one of the most prosperous in the whole history of base ball in this country. The National Association form of government has fostered base ball interest most wonderfully.

No friend of the National Association can study its record of the past year without great satisfaction.

It has stimulated and directed the energies, and set at work earnestly, the presidents of leagues for a perpetuation of individual leagues.

It has led all to see the necessity of kindly and harmonious co-operation with the government branch of minor league base ball, as exemplified by our National Board.

Its general utility to bring about conditions that best fit minor league base ball has been proved.

It is safe to say that more has been accomplished in the past year, in this direction, than ever before.

This does not mean that all has been accomplished that is desired.

It means that the steps which are essential to the betterment of the base ball interests as represented by our Association, are being better understood, and that these steps are being taken with more confidence and success than in former years.

The assembling of the several club officials of the north, east, south and west, in annual meeting has had a most beneficial influence, and has served many good purposes. It gives all an opportunity, among other things, to inform themselves upon subjects of vital importance to all; to discuss these subjects, and to harmonize upon them. All now meet as friends to determine what is practicable and advisable.

It removes an embarrassment which heretofore has confronted us, and for which we were in no wise responsible.

It enlists the interest of all for a betterment of our condition. The National Association is a government "for the minor league base ball people; of the minor league base ball people, and by the minor league base ball people."

On motion of Mr. Sexton it was voted to hold the next annual convention at St. Louis upon the third Wednesday in October, 1903.

In the event of a difference of opinion arising upon the schedule, it is agreed that an umpire shall be selected by the two leagues to decide such differences, if any, whose decision in each instance shall be binding.

Said umpire to be agreed upon prior to the commencement of arranging schedule. In the event of a non-agreement upon an umpire, the National Board shall nominate an umpire to act. Said umpire must be accepted by both parties to this agreement.

The said bond of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) of either league must be submitted to, and approved of, by the president of the opposite league or association.

In the event of a dispute as to the maximum salary of either of the two clubs in Kansas City or Milwaukee, the officers of said clubs will be called upon to make affidavit as to the club's salary limit, and shall produce on demand the books of the club for inspection and examination by the president of the complaining league, or association. A refusal to produce the books upon demand shall be taken as an evidence of guilt, and be so acted upon.

3. That the reserve lists and contracts of players of the Western League of 1902 for 1903 be respected in so far as that reservation covers players who were under contract with the Western League for 1902 and played in the Western League during 1902.

FARRELL'S LITERARY STYLE

The two following communications will give a fair idea of the character of John H. Farrell, the able and fearless Secretary of the National Association:

AUBURN, N. Y., March 25, 1903.

Dear Friend Dugdale: Your favor at hand, and contents carefully noted. Am delighted to know that you and yours are satisfied with existing conditions. The writer has not the faintest fear but that law and order and organization shall eventually prevail. If the National Agreement be thrown away, we will have nothing left but chaos and anarchy in base ball, and the administration of justice will become impossible.

We believe that the constitution and laws are superior to any scheme that extinguishes the light of authority, and permits all to guess for themselves; to toss and wander, without rudder or sail, upon a boundless sea. We preach the doctrine, through our organization, of respect for the rights of men.

Events in your league territory, like the pendulum of a clock, will swing forward and backward, for a time; but, eventually, the principles of respect for contracts, law and order, like the hands, will go steadily on, and must appeal to all good citizens, enlisting the hearty support of the people of your several communities.

PIRACY NEVER WENT INTO PARTNERSHIP WITH HONESTY.

The delusive glare of bright and shining reasons ($ $ $) is causing some players to lose all manhood, and is lighting up, for them, the road of an outcast.

Very truly yours,

J. H. FARRELL, Secretary.

JAS. CANAVAN
PRESIDENT AND MANAGER NEW HAVEN
CLUB
CONNECTICUT LEAGUE

ROGER CONNOR
PRESIDENT AND MANAGER SPRINGFIELD
CLUB
CONNECTICUT LEAGUE

AUBURN, N. Y., March 13, 1903.

GEORGE WHEATLEY, President, Greenville, Miss.

Dear Sir: Upon my arrival home, I find your several favors of recent date awaiting attention. I feel constrained to say that your deductions in the Killien matter are painfully overdrawn.

You have submitted the case to arbitration, and are morally bound to abide by the decision of the arbitrators. Each member of the Board passed upon the case, separately. Obedience to lawful authority, both human and divine, is an obligation admitted by all good citizens since the third cross was erected upon Calvary. Your allusion to the sentiment that "might is right" with the Board, appeals to me, as being close to scandalous, and I am sure your calm judgment will tell you that you have wronged the Board members. Upon this ground, permit me to recite, and bring to your mind, the two latest cases in your own league, involving Player Dudley, in dispute between Greenville and Kansas City—result: Dudley awarded Greenville; again, Player Gnadinger, Baton Rouge vs. Milwaukee—result: Gnadinger awarded Baton Rouge; again, Blake's services, involving Greenville and Wheeling, W. Va.—result: Blake ordered to Greenville, etc.

The Milwaukee, Kansas City and Wheeling clubs, no doubt, thought they were right, respectively, but did not assume to act as the judges and interpreters of the National Agreement.

I am sure you are prepared to admit that contracts must be held sacred, or all would be chaos and anarchy.

In the days of Rob Roy, of course, "might was right." In this day, the governmental branch of the sport is builded and operated upon equity, and fairness to all, regardless of size.

I sincerely trust that the report that comes to me that you have ordered the Natchez club to disregard the Board's decision and play Killien, is unfounded.

Replying to several wires from your Natchez people, we have said to them to submit the newly discovered evidence, relevant to the case, and the same will be duly considered.

Very truly,

J. H. FARRELL, Secretary.

Art. 20. Newly organized leagues may ask for and be admitted to membership at any time, but such membership shall terminate on the first of October following unless renewed according to Article 19.

RESERVATION.

Art. 21. On or before the twenty-fifth day of September in each year, and prior to the expiration of their players' contracts, the secretaries of leagues, parties hereto, entitled to the privilege of reservation, shall transmit to the Secretary of the Board a reserve list of players, not exceeding fourteen in number, then under contract with each of its several club members for the current season, and in addition thereto a list of such players reserved in any prior annual reserve list who have refused to contract with such clubs and of all ineligible players. Such players, together with all others thereafter to be regularly contracted with by such clubs (namely, whose releases have been secured by purchase or draft under this agreement for future services), are and shall be ineligible to contract with any other club of any league during the period of time between the termination of their contracts and the beginning of the next season. The Secretary of said Board shall thereupon promulgate such lists, provided that no club shall be permitted to reserve any player while in arrears of salary to him.

-RELEASE FROM RESERVATION.

Art. 22. The Board may also release from contract or reservation any player or manager when the club with which he has contracted, or by which he has been reserved, shall be in arrears to him for salary for more than fifteen days after such salary became due, or when the reserving club has failed to tender to any player, on or before the first day of March, after such reservation, a formal contract, with a salary of at least such an amount per month as the Board may fix as the salary to be paid to such player, or when any such reserving club has transferred its membership after the close of the championship season to a different league, if the Board shall deem that the player will be prejudiced by such transfer.

INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS IN CONFLICT WITH THE NATIONAL AGREEMENT.

Art. 23—Sec. 1. Any club member of any league or association, a party to or identified with the National Agreement, that shall enter into any negotiation to become a member of or in any way co-operate with any organization of professional base ball clubs whose existence will in any manner conflict with the letter and spirit of this Agreement or the interests of any of the clubs operating under it, shall forthwith forfeit all rights and privileges conferred by this Agreement, said forfeiture to include its membership in any association a party to this Agreement, and all rights of reservation to players reserved during the current or any preceding season. The penalty herein imposed shall be positive and final and shall not be revoked unless by the unanimous consent of the Board or upon appeal by a three-fourths vote of the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues.

Sec. 2. Any officer, manager or player who shall enter into any such negotiations as referred to in Section 1 of Article 23, or who shall agree or contract to play with any club a member of such organization, shall be declared ineligible and subject to all the disabilities referred to in the preceding section.

DISQUALIFIED PLAYERS.

Art. 24. When a player shall become ineligible under the provisions of this Agreement, or by order of the Board, the Secretary of the Board shall notify the several clubs acting under this Agreement of such disqualification. From the receipt of any such notice all club members of associations acting under this Agreement shall be debarred from employing or playing with or against such disqualified player until the period of disqualification shall have terminated or the disqualification be re-

SUSPENSION OF PLAYERS.

Art. 25. Any player who has entered into a contract with any club of an association party hereto, may be suspended without pay or fined by such club or association, for breach of contract or breach of any of the rules of such club or association, and he shall thereafter be ineligible to sign or play during the remainder of the current season with any of the clubs of any association acting hereunder, unless such disability shall have been sooner removed by the club or association by which he was suspended or by the Board.

ACCEPTANCE OF SERVICE.

Art. 26. Upon the release of a player from contract or reservation with any club member of an association then acting under this Agreement (unless the release be made by "selection" under Article 10 or 11), the services of such player shall at once be subject to acceptance by any club belonging to the same association, expressed in writing or by telegraph to the Secretary of the Board, for a period of ten days after notice of said release; and, thereafter, if said services be not so accepted, said player may negotiate and contract with any club. The releasing club shall send notice to the Secretary of the Board of said player's release on the date thereof, and the latter shall promulgate any acceptance of his services, provided that the disbandment of a club or its expulsion from membership in any association acting hereunder shall operate as a release of all of its players from contract with or reservation by said club. But the services of such players shall at once be subject to the acceptance of such association for a period of ten days for the purpose of supplying the vacancy in its membership.

CONTROL AND DISCIPLINE.

Art. 27—Sec. 1. Each association shall have the right to make and enforce all rules and regulations pertaining to the control, discipline and compensation of all players under contract with its club members. And it may prescribe that all contracts with its players shall be made directly with said association, assignable to its club members, with the right of reservation to be exclusively exercised by said association, in which event all the provisions of this Agreement applying to contracts or reservation of players with and by club members, shall apply to such contracts and reservation of players with and by said association; provided that such rules and regulations shall in no way conflict with the provisions of this Agreement, or any rule, regulation or order of the Board.

CORRECT DIAGRAM OF A BALL FIELD

THE OFFICIAL PLAYING RULES OF PROFESSIONAL BASE BALL CLUBS

As adopted at the Meeting of the Joint Playing Rules Committee of the National League, the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues, and the American League, held at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, Ill., Monday, February 23, 1903.

The Ball Ground.

RULE 1. SECTION 1. The Ground must be an inclosed field, sufficient in size to enable each player to play in his position as required by these rules.

SEC. 2. The pitcher's box shall be no more than 15 inches higher than the base lines, and home plate. The base lines, and home plate, shall be on a perfect level, and the slope from the pitcher's box towards the base lines, and home plate, shall be gradual.

RULE 2. To lay off the lines governing the positions and the play of the game known as Base Ball, proceed as follows:

From a point, A, within the grounds, project a right line out into the field, and at a point, B, 154 feet from point A, lay off lines B C and B D at right angles to the line A B; then, with B as center and 63.63945 feet as radius, describe arcs cutting the lines B A at F and B C at G, B D at H and B E at I. Draw lines F G, G E, E H and H F, and said lines will be the containing lines of the Diamond or Infield.

The Catcher's Lines.

RULE 3. With F as center and 10 feet radius, an arc cutting line F A at L, and draw lines L M and L O at right angles to F A, and continue same out from F A not less than 10 feet.

The Foul Lines.

RULE 4. From the intersection point, F, continue the straight lines F G and F H until they intersect with the lines L M and L O, and then from the points G and H in the opposite direction until they reach the boundary lines of the grounds.

The Players' Lines.

RULE 5. With F as center and 50 feet radius, describe arcs cutting lines F O and F M at P and Q; then, with F as center again and 75 feet radius, describe arcs cutting F G and F H at R and S; then, from the points P, Q, R and S draw lines at right angles to the lines F O, F M, F G and F H, and continue same until they intersect at the points T and W.

The Captain and Coacher's Line.

RULE 6. With R and S as centers and 15 feet radius, describe arcs cutting lines R W and S T at X and Y, and from the points X and Y draw lines parallel with lines F H and F G, and continue same out to the boundary lines of the ground.

The Three-Foot Line.

RULE 7. With F as center and 45 feet radius, describe an arc cutting line F G at 1, and from 1 out to the distance of 3 feet draw a line at right angles to F G, and marked point 2; then from point 2, draw a line parallel with the line F G to a point 3 feet beyond the point G, and marked 3; then from the point 3 draw a line at right angles to line 2, 3, back to and intersecting with line F G, and from thence back along line G F to point 1.

The Pitcher's Plate.

RULE 8. With point F as center and 60.5 feet as radius, describe an arc cutting the line F B at a point 4, and draw a line 5, 6, perpendicular thereto, passing through point 4 and extending 12 inches on either side of line F B; then with line 5, 6, as a side, describe a parallelogram 24 inches by 6 inches.

The Bases.

RULE 9. Within the angle F, describe a five-sided figure, two of the sides of which shall coincide with the lines F G and F H to the extent of 12 inches each, thence parallel with the line F B $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches to the points X and Y, a straight line between which, 17 inches, will form the front of the plate.

The Batsman's Line.

RULE 10. On either side of the line A F B describe two parallelograms 6 feet long and 4 feet wide (marked 8 and 9), their length being parallel with the line A F B, their distance apart being 6 inches added to each end of the length of the diagonal of the square within the angle F, and the center of their length being upon said diagonal.

RULE 11. The Home Base at F and the Pitcher's Plate at 4 must be of whitened rubber, and so fixed in the ground as to be even with the surface.

RULE 12. The First Base at G, the Second Base at E, and the Third Base at H must be of white canvas bags, filled with soft material and securely fastened in their positions described in Rule 9.

RULE 13. The lines described in Rules 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 10 must be marked with lime, chalk or other suitable material, so as to be distinctly seen by the umpire.

*The Ball.

RULE 14. SECTION 1. Must not weigh less than five nor more than five and one-quarter ounces avoirdupois, and it must measure not less than nine nor more than nine and one-quarter inches in circumference. The Spalding League Ball, or the Reach American Association Ball, must be used in all games played under these rules.

SEC. 2. For each championship game two new regulation balls shall be furnished by the home club to the umpire for use. When the ball in play is batted to foul ground and out of sight of the umpire, the other ball shall be immediately brought into play. As often as one of the two in use shall be lost a new one must be substituted, so that the umpire shall at all times after the game begins have two balls in his possession and ready for use. The moment an umpire delivers an alternate ball to the pitcher, it comes into play, and shall not be exchanged until it, in turn, passes out of sight to foul ground. At no time shall the ball

*The Spalding League Ball has been adopted by the National League for the past twenty-six years and readopted in 1902 for five years, and is used in all League contests.

For junior clubs (clubs composed of boys under 16 years of age) we recommend them to use the Spalding Boys' League Ball, and that games played by junior clubs with this ball will count as legal games the same as if played with the Official League Ball.

be intentionally discolored by rubbing it with the soil or otherwise. In the event of a new ball being intentionally discolored, or otherwise injured by a player, the umpire shall, upon appeal from the captain of the opposite side, forthwith demand the return of that ball and shall substitute another new ball and impose a fine of $5.00 upon the offending player.

SEC. 3. In all games the balls played with shall be furnished by the home club, and the last ball in play shall become the property of the winning club. Each ball to be used in championship games shall be examined, measured and weighed by the Secretary of the League, inclosed in a paper box, and sealed with the seal of the Secretary, which seal shall not be broken, except by the umpire in the presence of the captains of the two contesting nines after play has been called.

The home club shall have, at least, a dozen regulation balls on the field ready for use on the call of the umpire during each championship game.

SEC. 4. Should the ball become cut or ripped so as to expose the interior, or in any way so injured as to be, in the opinion of the umpire, unfit for fair use, he shall, upon appeal by either captain, at once put the alternate ball into play and call for a new ball.

The Bat.

Must be entirely of hard wood, except that
RULE 15. the handle may be wound with twine or a granulated substance supplied, not to exceed eighteen inches from the end.

It must be round, and it must not exceed two and three-quarter inches in diameter in the thickest part, nor exceed forty-two inches in length.

The Players and Their Positions.

The players of each club in a game shall
RULE 16. be nine in number, one of whom shall act as captain; and in no case shall less than nine men be allowed to play on each side.

The players' positions shall be such as may
RULE 17. be assigned them by their captain, except that the pitcher, while in the act of delivering the ball to the bat, must take his position as defined in Rules 8 and 29; and the catcher must stand within the lines of his position as defined in Rule 3, whenever the pitcher delivers the ball to the bat, and within ten feet of the home plate.

RULE 18. Players in uniform shall not be permitted to occupy seats on the stands, or to stand among the spectators.

RULE 19. SECTION 1. Every club shall adopt uniforms for its players, and the suits of each team shall conform in color and style. No player who shall attach anything to the sole or heel of his shoes other than the ordinary base ball shoe plate, or who shall appear in a uniform not conforming to the suits of the other members of his team, shall be permitted to take part in the game.

SEC. 2. The catcher and first baseman are permitted to wear a glove or mitt of any size, shape or weight. All other players are restricted to the use of a glove or mitt weighing not over ten ounces, and measuring in circumference, around the palm of the hand, not over fourteen inches.

Players' Benches.

RULE 20. SECTION 1. The players' benches must be furnished by the home club and placed upon a portion of the ground not less than twenty-five (25) feet outside of the players' lines. One such bench shall be for the exclusive use of the visiting club, and one for the exclusive use of the home club. The benches must be covered by a roof and closed at the back and each end; a space, however, not more than six (6) inches wide may be left just under the roof for ventilation. All players of the side at bat must be seated on their bench, except such as are legally assigned to coach base-runners, and also the batsman, except when called to the bat by the umpire, and under no circumstances shall the umpire permit any person, except managers and players in uniform, to occupy seats on the benches.

SEC. 2. To enforce this rule the captain of the other side may call the attention of the umpire to a violation, whereupon the umpire shall immediately order such player or players to be seated. If the order is not obeyed within one minute the offending player or players shall be fined $5.00 each by the umpire. If the order is not then obeyed within one minute, the offending player or players shall be debarred from further participation in the game, and shall be obliged to leave the playing field forthwith.

The Game.

RULE 21. SECTION 1. Every championship game must be commenced not later than two hours before sunset.

SEC. 2. A game shall consist of nine innings to each contesting nine, except that (a.) If the side first at bat scores less runs in nine innings than the other side has scored in eight innings, the game shall then terminate.

(b.) If the side last at bat in the ninth innings scores the winning run before the third man is out, the game shall terminate.

A Tie Game.

If the score be a tie at the end of the nine innings, play shall be continued until one side has scored more runs than the other in an equal number of innings, provided, that the side last at the bat scores the winning run before the third man is out, the game shall terminate.

A Drawn Game.

A drawn game shall be declared by the umpire when he terminates a game on account of darkness or rain, after five equal innings have been played, if the score at the time is equal on the last even innings played; except when the side that went second to bat is then at the bat, and has scored the same number of runs as the other side, in which case the umpire shall declare the game drawn without regard to the score of the last equal innings.

A Called Game.

If the umpire calls "Game" on account of darkness or rain at any time after five innings have been completed, the score shall be that of the last equal innings played, but if the side second at bat shall have scored in an unequal number of innings, or before the completion of its unfinished inning one or more runs than the side first at bat, the score of the game shall be the total number of runs made.

A Forfeited Game.

A forfeited game shall be declared by the umpire in favor of the club not in fault, at the request of such club, in the following cases:

SECTION 1. If the nine of a club fail to appear upon the field, or being upon the field, fail to begin the game within five minutes after the umpire has called "Play" at the hour appointed for the beginning of the game, unless such delay in appearing or in commencing the game, be unavoidable.

SEC. 2. If, after the game has begun, one side refuses or fails to continue playing, unless such game has been suspended or terminated by the umpire.

SEC. 3. If, after play has been suspended by the umpire, one side fails to resume playing within one minute after the umpire has called "Play."

SEC. 4. If a team resorts to dilatory movements to delay the game.

SEC. 5. If, in the opinion of the umpire, any one of the rules of the game is wilfully violated.

SEC. 6. If, after ordering the removal of a player, as authorized by Rules 20, 53 and 59, said order is not obeyed within one minute.

SEC. 7. If, because of removal of players from the game by the umpire, there be less than nine players in either team.

SEC. 8. If, when two games are scheduled to be played on the same afternoon, the second game is not commenced within ten minutes of the time of completion of the first game. The umpire of the first game shall be the timekeeper.

SEC. 9. In case the umpire declares the game forfeited, he shall transmit a written notice thereof to the president of the League within twenty-four hours thereafter. However, a failure on the part of the umpire to so notify the president shall not affect his decision declaring the game forfeited.

No Game.

RULE 26. "No game" shall be declared by the umpire if he shall terminate play on account of rain or darkness before five innings on each side are completed. Except in a case when the game is called, and the club second at bat shall have more runs at the end of its fourth innings than the club first at bat has made in its five completed innings; in such case the umpire shall award the game to the club having made the greatest number of runs, and it shall be a legal game and be so counted in the championship record.

Substitutes.

RULE 27. SECTION I. In any championship game each side shall be required to have present on the field, in uniform, conforming to the suits worn by their team mates, a sufficient number of substitute players to carry out the provision which requires that not less than nine players shall occupy the field in any innings of a game.

SEC. 2. Any such player may be substituted at any time by either club, but a player thereby retired shall not thereafter participate in the game.

SEC. 3. The base-runner shall not have a substitute run for him except by the consent of the captains of the contesting teams.

The Choice of Innings—Condition of Ground.

RULE 28. The choice of innings shall be given to the captain of the home club, who shall also be the sole judge of the fitness of the ground for beginning a game after rain; but, after play has been called by the umpire, he alone shall be the judge as to the fitness of the ground for resuming play after the game has been suspended on account of rain.

The Pitcher's Position.

RULE 29. The pitcher shall take his position facing the batsman with both feet square on the ground and in front of the pitcher's plate; but in the act of delivering the ball to the bat, one foot must be in contact with the pitcher's plate, defined in Rule 8. He shall not raise either foot, unless in the act of delivering the ball to the bat, nor make more than one step in such delivery.

A Fairly Delivered Ball.

RULE 30. A fairly delivered ball to the bat, is a ball pitched or thrown to the bat by the pitcher while standing in his position and facing the batsman; the ball so delivered to pass over any portion of the home base, not lower than the batsman's knee, nor higher than his shoulder, in which case the umpire shall call one strike.

An Unfairly Delivered Ball.

RULE 31. An unfairly delivered ball is a ball delivered by the pitcher, as in Rule 30, except that the ball does not pass over any portion of the home base, or does pass over the home base, above the batsman's shoulder or below the line of his knee, in which case the umpire shall call one ball.

Delaying the Game.

RULE 32. SECTION I. If the ball is thrown by the pitcher to any player other than the catcher (except to retire a base-runner) after the batsman is standing in his proper position ready to strike at a pitched ball, each ball so delivered shall be called a ball.

SEC. 2. The umpire shall call a ball on the pitcher each time he delays the game by failing to deliver the ball to the batsman when in position for a longer period than twenty seconds. Excepting that in the case of the first batsman in each inning, the pitcher may occupy not more than one minute in delivering not to exceed 5 balls to a baseman.

Balking.

A Balk shall be :

RULE 33. SECTION 1. Any motion made by the pitcher to deliver the ball to the bat or to throw to first base without delivering it.

SEC. 2. The throwing of the ball by the pitcher to any base to catch the base-runner without first stepping directly towards said base immediately before throwing the ball.

SEC. 3. Any delivery of the ball to the bat by the pitcher while either foot is back of the pitcher's plate, and he is not facing the batsman, as defined in Rule 29.

SEC. 4. Any motion in delivering the ball to the bat by the pitcher while not in the position defined in Rule 29.

SEC. 5. The holding of the ball by the pitcher so long as, in the opinion of the umpire, to delay the game unnecessarily.

SEC. 6. Standing in position and making any motion to pitch without having the ball in his possession.

SEC. 7. The making of any motion the pitcher habitually makes in his method of delivery, without his immediately delivering the ball to the bat.

SEC. 8. If the pitcher delivers the ball to the bat when the catcher is standing outside the lines of the catcher's position as defined in Rule 3.

If the pitcher fails to comply with the requirements of any section of this rule the umpire must call "A balk."

Dead Balls.

A Dead Ball is a ball delivered to the bat by the pitcher that touches any part of the batsman's person or clothing while standing in his position without being struck at; or that touches any part of the umpire's person or clothing while he is standing on foul ground, without first passing the catcher.

RULE 35. In case of a foul strike, foul hit ball not legally caught out, dead ball, or base-runner put out for being struck by a fair hit ball, the ball shall not be considered in play until it is held by the pitcher standing in his position, and the umpire shall have called play.

Block Balls.

RULE 36. SECTION 1. A Block is a batted or thrown ball that is touched, stopped or handled by any person not engaged in the game.

SEC. 2. Whenever a block occurs the umpire shall declare it, and the base-runners may run the bases without being put out until the ball has been returned to and held by the pitcher standing in his position.

SEC. 3. In the case of a block, if the person not engaged in the game should retain possession of the ball, or throw or kick it beyond the reach of the fielders, the umpire should call "Time" and require each base-runner to stop at the last base touched by him until the ball be returned to the pitcher standing in his position and the umpire shall have called "Play."

The Batsman's Position—Order of Batting.

RULE 37. The batsmen must take their position within the batsman's lines, as defined in Rule 10, in the order in which they are named in the batting order, which batting order must be submitted by the captains of the opposing teams to the umpire before the game, and this batting order must be followed, except in the case of a substitute player, in which case the substitute must take the place of the original player in the batting order. After the first inning the first striker in each innings shall be the batsman whose name follows that of the last man who has completed his turn—time at bat—in the preceding inning.

RULE 38. SECTION 1. When their side goes to the bat the players must immediately return to the players' bench, as defined in Rule 20, and remain there until the side is put out, except when called to the bat or they become coaches or substitute base-runners; provided, that the captain or one player only, except that if two or more base-runners are occupying the bases, then the captain and one player, or two players, may occupy the space between the players' lines and the captain's lines to coach base-runners.

SEC. 2. No player of the side "at bat," except when batsman, shall occupy any portion of the space within the catcher's lines, as defined in Rule 3. The triangular space behind the home base is reserved for the exclusive use of umpire, catcher and batsman, and the umpire must prohibit any player of the side "at bat" from crossing the same at any time while the ball is in the hands of, or passing between, the pitcher and catcher, while standing in their positions.

SEC. 3. The players of the side "at bat" must occupy the portion of the field allotted them, but must speedily vacate any portion thereof that may be in the way of the ball, or any fielder attempting to catch or field it.

The Batting Rules.

RULE 39. SECTION 1. A fair hit is a ball batted by the batsman—while he is standing within the lines of his position—that first touches "fair" ground, or the person of a player, or the umpire, while standing on fair ground, and then settles on fair ground before passing the line of first or third base.

SEC. 2. A foul hit is a similarly batted ball that first touches "foul" ground, or the person of a player, or the umpire while standing on "foul" ground.

SEC. 3. Should such "fair hit" ball bound or roll to foul ground, before passing the line of first or third base, and settle on foul ground, it shall be declared by the umpire a foul ball.

SEC. 4. Should such "foul hit" ball bound or roll to fair ground and settle there before passing the line of first or third base, it shall be declared by the umpire a fair ball.

RULE 40. A "foul tip" is a ball batted by the batsman while standing within the lines of his position that goes foul sharp from the bat to the catcher's hands.

RULE 41. A "bunt" hit is a ball delivered by the pitcher to the batsman who, while standing within the lines of his position, makes a deliberate attempt to hit the ball so slowly within the infield that it cannot be fielded in time to retire the batsman. If such a "bunt hit" goes to foul ground a strike shall be called by the umpire.

Balls Batted Outside the Grounds.

RULE 42. When a batted ball passes outside the grounds, the umpire shall decide it Fair should it disappear within, or Foul should it disappear outside of the range of the foul lines, and Rule 39 is to be construed accordingly.

RULE 43. A fair batted ball that goes over the fence shall entitle the batsman to a home run, except, that should it go over the fence at a less distance than two hundred and thirty-five (235) feet from the home base, when he shall be entitled to two bases only, and a distinctive line shall be marked on the fence at this point.

Strikes.

A strike is:

RULE 44. SECTION 1. A ball struck at by the batsman without its touching his bat; or,

SEC. 2. A fair ball legally delivered by the pitcher, but not struck at by the batsman.

SEC. 3. A foul hit ball not caught on the fly, unless two strikes have already been called.

SEC. 4. A "bunt hit" which sends the ball to foul ground either directly or by bounding or rolling from fair ground to foul ground and which settles on foul ground.

SEC. 5. A ball struck at, if the ball touches any part of the batsman's person.

SEC. 6. A foul tip by the batsman, caught by the catcher while standing within the lines of his position.

A Foul Strike is a ball batted by the batsman when any part of his person is upon ground outside the lines of the batsman's position.

The Batsman is Out.

The Batsman is out:

RULE 46. SECTION 1. If he fails to take his position at the bat in his order of batting, unless the error be discovered and the proper batsman takes his position before a time "at bat" is recorded, and, in such case, the balls and strikes called must be counted in the time "at bat" of the proper batsman, and only the proper batsman shall be declared out, and no runs shall be scored or bases run because of any act of the improper batsman; provided, this rule shall not take effect unless the out is declared before the ball is delivered to the succeeding batsman. Should batsman declared out by this rule be sufficient to retire the side, the proper batsman the next innings is the player who would have come to bat had the players been out by ordinary play.

SEC. 2. If he fails to take his position within one minute after the umpire has called for the batsman.

SEC. 3. If he makes a foul hit other than a foul tip, as defined in Rule 40, and the ball be momentarily held by a fielder before touching the ground; provided, it be not caught in a fielder's hat or cap, or touched by some object other than a fielder before being caught.

SEC. 4. If he makes a foul strike.

SEC. 5. If he attempts to hinder the catcher from fielding or throwing the ball by stepping outside the lines of the position, or otherwise obstructing or interfering with the player.

SEC. 6. If, while the first base be occupied by a base-runner, three strikes be called on him by the umpire, except when two men are already out.

SEC. 7. If, attempting a third strike, the ball touches any part of the batsman's person, in which case base-runners occupying bases shall return as prescribed in Rule 50, section 5.

SEC. 8. If he hits a fly ball that can be handled by an infielder while first and second bases are occupied, or first, second and third, unless two hands are out. In such case the umpire shall, as soon as the ball is hit, declare infield or outfield hit.

SEC. 9. If the third strike is called in accordance with section 5, Rule 44.

SEC. 10. The moment a batsman is declared out by the umpire, he (the umpire) shall call for the batsman next in order to leave his seat on the bench and take his position at the bat, and such player of the batting side shall not leave his seat on the bench until so called to bat, except as provided by Rule 38 section 1, and Rule 53.

BASE-RUNNING RULES.

When the Batsman Becomes a Base-Runner.

The batsman becomes a base-runner:

RULE 47. SECTION 1. Instantly after he makes a fair hit.

SEC. 2. Instantly after four balls have been called by the umpire.

SEC. 3. Instantly after three strikes have been declared by the umpire.

SEC. 4. If, while he be a batsman, without making any attempt to strike at the ball, his person or clothing be hit by a ball from the pitcher, unless in the opinion of the umpire he plainly avoids making any effort to get out of the way of the ball from the pitcher and thereby permits himself to be so hit.

SEC. 5. If, while he be a batsman, the catcher interferes with him, preventing him from striking the ball.

*Bases to be Touched.RULE

The base-runner must touch each base in regular order, viz.: first, second, third and home bases, and when obliged to return (except on a foul hit) must retouch the base or bases in reverse order. He shall only be considered as holding a base after touching it, and shall then be entitled to hold such base until he has legally touched the next base in order or has been legally forced to vacate it for a succeeding base-runner. However, no base-runner shall score a run to count in the game until the base-runner preceding him in the batting list (provided there has been such a base-runner who has not been put out in that inning) shall have first touched home base without being put out.

*Entitled to Bases.RULE 49.

The base-runner shall be entitled, without being put out, to take the base in the following cases:

SECTION 1. If, while he was batsman, the umpire called four balls.

SEC. 2. If the umpire awards a succeeding batsman a base on four balls, and the base-runner is thereby forced to vacate the base held by him.

SEC. 3. If the umpire calls a "balk."

SEC. 4. If a ball, delivered by the pitcher, pass the catcher, and touch the umpire, or any fence or building within ninety feet of the home base.

SEC. 5. If, upon a fair hit, the ball strikes the person or clothing of the umpire on fair ground.

SEC. 6. If he be prevented from making a base by the obstruction of an adversary, unless the latter be a fielder having the ball in his hand ready to meet the base-runner.

SEC. 7. If the fielder stop or catch a batted ball with his hat or any part of his uniform except his gloved hand.

Returning to Bases.

The base-runner shall return to his base, and shall be entitled to so return without being put out:

SECTION 1. If the umpire declares a foul tip (as defined in Rule 40), or any other foul hit not legally caught by a fielder.

SEC. 2. If the umpire declares a foul strike.

SEC. 3. If the umpire declares a dead ball, unless it be also the fourth unfair ball and he be thereby forced to take the next base, as provided in Rule 49, section 2.

SEC. 4. If the person or clothing of the umpire interferes with the catcher, or he is struck by a ball thrown by the catcher to intercept a base-runner.

SEC. 5. The base-runner shall return to his base if, while attempting a strike, the ball touches any part of the batsman's person.

When Base-Runners are Out.

The Base-Runner is Out :

RULE 51. SECTION 1. If, after three strikes have been declared against him while batsman, and the catcher fail to catch the third strike ball, he plainly attempts to hinder the catcher from fielding the ball.

SEC. 2. If, having made a fair hit while batsman, such fair hit ball be momentarily held by a fielder before touching the ground, or any object other than a fielder ; PROVIDED, it be not caught in a fielder's hat or cap.

SEC. 3. If, when the umpire has declared three strikes on him while batsman, the third strike ball be momentarily held by a fielder before touching the ground ; PROVIDED, it be not caught in a fielder's hat or cap, or touch some object other than a fielder before being caught.

SEC. 4. If, after three strikes or a fair hit, he be touched with the ball in the hand of a fielder before he shall have touched first base.

SEC. 5. If, after three strikes or a fair hit, the ball be securely held by a fielder while touching first base with any part of his person before such base-runner touches first base.

SEC. 6. If, in running the last half of the distance from home base to first base, while the ball is being fielded to first base, he runs outside the three-foot lines, as defined in Rule 7, unless to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball.

SEC. 7. If, in running from first to second base, from second to third base, or from third to home base, he runs more than three feet from a direct line between such bases to avoid being touched by the ball in the hands of a fielder ; but in case a fielder be occupying the base-runner's proper path in attempting to field a batted ball, then the base-runner shall run out of the path, and behind said fielder, and shall not be declared out for so doing.

SEC. 8. If he fails to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball, in the manner described in sections 6 and 7 of this rule, or if he, in any way, obstructs a fielder attempting to field a batted ball, or intentionally interferes with a thrown ball ; PROVIDED, that if two or more fielders attempt to field a batted ball, and the base-runner comes in contact with one or more of them, the umpire shall determine which fielder is entitled to the benefit of this rule, and shall not decide the base-runner out for coming in contact with any other fielder.

SEC. 9. If, at any time while the ball is in play, he be touched by the ball in the hands of a fielder, unless some part of his person is touching a base he is entitled to occupy ; PROVIDED, the ball be held by the fielder after touching him.

SEC. 10. The base-runner in running to first base may over-run said base, without being put out for being off said base, after first touching it, provided he returns at once and retouches the base, after which he may be put out as at any other base. If, in over-running first base, he also attempts to run to second base, or after passing the base he turns to his left from the foul line, he shall forfeit such exemption from being put out.

SEC. 11. If, when a fair or foul hit ball (other than a foul tip as referred to in Rule 40) is legally caught by a fielder, such ball is legally held by a fielder on the base occupied by the base-runner when such ball was struck (or the base-runner be touched with the ball in the hands of a fielder), before he retouches said base after such fair or foul hit ball was so caught ; PROVIDED, that the base-runner shall not be out, in such case, if, after the ball was legally caught as above, it be delivered to the bat by the pitcher before the fielder holds it on said base, or touches the base-runner with it ; but if the base-runner, in attempting to reach a base, detaches it before being touched or forced out, he shall be declared safe.

SEC. 12. If, when a batsman becomes a base-runner, the first base, or the first and second bases, or the first, second and third bases, be occupied, any base-runner so occupying a base shall cease to be entitled to hold it, until any following base-runner is put out, and may be put out at the next base, or by being touched by the ball in the hands of a fielder in the same manner as in running to first base, at any time before any following base-runner is put out.

SEC. 13. If a fair hit ball strike him before touching the fielder, and, in such case, no base shall be run unless forced by the batsman becoming a base-runner, and no run shall be scored or any other base-runner put out.

SEC. 14. If, when running to a base, or forced to return to a base, he fail to touch the intervening base, or bases, if any, in the order prescribed in Rule 48, he may be put out at the base he fails to touch, or being touched by the ball in the hands of the fielder in the same manner as in running to first base ; PROVIDED, that the base-runner shall not be out in such case if the ball be delivered to the bat by the pitcher before the fielder holds it on said base or touches the base-runner with it.

SEC. 15. If, when the umpire calls "Play," after any suspension of a game, he fails to return to and touch the base he occupied when "Time" was called before touching the next base; PROVIDED, the base-runner shall not be out, in such case, if the ball be delivered to the bat by the pitcher, before the fielder holds it on said base or touches the base-runner with it.

When Batsman or Base-Runner is Out.

The umpire shall declare the batsman or
RULE 52. base-runner out, without waiting for an appeal for such decision, in all cases where such player is put out in accordance with these rules, except as provided in Rule 51, sections 10 and 14.

Coaching Rules.

The Coacher shall be restricted to coaching the base-runner only, and shall not be allowed to address any remarks except to the base-runner, and then only in words of necessary direction; and shall not, by words or signs, incite or try to incite the spectators to demonstrations; and shall not use language which will in any manner refer to or reflect upon a player of the opposite club, the umpire or the spectators, and not more than one coacher who may be a player participating in the game, or any other player under contract to and in the uniform of either club shall be allowed at any one time, except, that if base-runners are occupying two or more of the bases, then the captain and one player, or two players under contract to and in the uniform of either club, may occupy the space between the players' lines and the captains' lines to coach base-runners. To enforce the above the captain of the opposite side may call the attention of the umpire to the offence, and thereupon the umpire must order the illegal coacher or coachers to the bench; if his order is not obeyed within one minute, the umpire shall assess a fine of $5.00 each against the offending player or players, and, upon a repetition of the offence, the offending player or players shall be debarred from further participation in the game, and shall leave the playing field forthwith.

The Scoring of Runs.

One run shall be scored every time a base-runner, after having legally touched the first three bases, shall touch the home base before three men are put out. (Exception)—If the third man is forced out, or is put out before reaching first base, a run shall not be scored.

THE UMPIRE AND HIS DUTIES.

RULE 55. The umpire shall not be changed during the progress of a championship game, except by reason of personal illness or injury incapacitating him for the discharge of his duties.

RULE 56. The umpire is the representative of the League, and as such shall have power to enforce every section of the code of playing rules of the game; and he shall have power to order any player, or captain, or manager, to do or omit to do, any action that he may deem necessary to give force and effect to the laws of the game.

RULE 57. There shall be no appeal from any legal decision of the umpire.

RULE 58. Under no circumstances shall any player be allowed to dispute a decision by the umpire, in which only an error of judgment is involved; and no decision rendered by him shall be reversed, except it be plainly shown by the code of rules to have been illegal; and in such case the captain alone shall be allowed to make the appeal for reversal.

RULE 59. SECTION 1. In all cases of violation of these rules, by either a player or manager, the penalty for the first offence shall be a fine by the umpire of $5.00, and for a second offence, a prompt removal of the offender from the game or grounds, followed by such period of suspension from actual service in the club as the president of the League may elect.

SEC. 2. The umpire shall, within twelve hours after fining or removing a player from the game, forward to the president a report of the action and the causes therefor.

SEC. 3. Immediately upon notification by the umpire that a fine has been imposed upon any manager, captain or player, the president shall notify the person so fined and also the club of which he is a member, and, in the event of the failure of the person so fined to pay to the secretary of the League the amount of said fine within five days of notice, he shall be debarred from participating in any championship game or from sitting on a player's bench during the progress of a championship game until such fine is paid.

SEC. 4. When the offence of the player debarred from the game is of such a flagrant nature, such as the use of obscene language or an assault upon a player or umpire, the umpire shall, within four hours thereafter, notify the president of the League, giving full particulars.

SEC. 5. He shall also notify both captains before the game, and in the presence of each other, that all the playing rules will be impartially enforced, and that their failing to co-operate in such enforcement, will result in their being fined and, perhaps, their removal from the game.

Before the commencement of a game the RULE 60. umpire shall see that the rules governing all the materials of the game are strictly observed. He shall ask the captain of the home club whether there are any special ground rules to be enforced, and if there are, he shall see that they are duly enforced, provided they do not conflict with any of these rules.

The umpire shall not only call "play" at
RULE 61. the hour appointed for the beginning of the game, but also announce "game called" at its legal conclusion.

The umpire shall suspend play for the fol-
RULE 62. lowing causes: First, if rain is falling so heavily as to oblige the spectators on the open field and open stands to seek shelter, in which case he shall note the time of suspension; and should rain fall continuously for thirty minutes thereafter he shall terminate the game.

The umpire shall suspend play in case of an
RULE 63. accident to himself or to a player which incapacitates him or them from service in the field, or in order to remove from the grounds any player or spectator who has violated the rules.

In suspending play from any legal cause,
RULE 64. the umpire shall call "time;" when he calls "time" the play shall be suspended until he calls "play" again, and during the interim no player shall be put out, base be run, or run be scored. "Time" shall not be called by the umpire until the ball is held by the pitcher standing in his position.

The umpire shall call and count as a "ball"
RULE 65. any unfair ball delivered by the pitcher to the batsman, but not before such ball has passed the line of the home base. He shall also call and count as a "strike" any fairly delivered ball which passes over any portion of the home base, and within the batsman's legal range, as defined in Rule 44, which is not struck at by the batsman, or a foul tip which is caught by the catcher, standing within the lines of his position, or which after being struck at and not hit, strikes the person of the batsman ; or when the ball is purposely hit foul by the batsman, or when the ball is bunted foul by the batsman.

RULE 66. If but one umpire is assigned, his duties and powers shall be that of both the umpire and the assistant umpire, and he shall be permitted to occupy such positions on the field as will best enable him to discharge his duties.

RULE 67. No person shall be allowed upon any part of the field during the progress of a game in addition to the players in uniform, the manager of each side and the umpire, except such officers of the law as may be present in uniform, and such officials of the home club as may be necessary to preserve the peace.

RULE 68. No manager, captain or player shall address the spectators during the progress of a game, except in case of necessary explanation.

RULE 69. Every club shall furnish sufficient police force upon its own grounds to preserve order, and in the event of a crowd entering a field during the progress of a game and interfering with the play in any manner, the visiting club may refuse to play further until the field be cleared. If the ground be not cleared within fifteen minutes thereafter, the visiting club may claim, and shall be entitled to the game, by a score of nine runs to none (no matter what number of innings has been played).

General Definitions.

RULE 70. "Play" is the order of the umpire to begin the game, or to resume play after its suspension.

RULE 71. "Time" is the order of the umpire to suspend play. Such suspension must not extend beyond the day of the game.

RULE 72. "Game" is the announcement by the umpire that the game is terminated.

RULE 73. An "Inning" is the term at bat of the nine players representing a club in a game, and is completed when three of such players have been put out, as provided in these rules.

RULE 74. A "Time at Bat" is the term at bat of a batsman. It begins when he takes his position and continues until he is put out or becomes a base-runner; except when, because of being hit by a pitched ball, or in case of an illegal delivery by the pitcher, or in case of a sacrifice hit purposely made to the infield which, not being a base-hit, advances a base-runner without resulting in a put-out, except to the batsman, as in Rule 46.

RULE 75. "Legal" or "Legally" signifies as required by these rules.

SCORING.

RULE 76. In order to promote uniformity in scoring championship games the following instructions, suggestions and definitions are made for the benefit of scorers, and they are required to make all scores in accordance therewith.

Batting

SECTION 1. The first item in the tabulated score, after the player's name and position, shall be the number of times he has been at bat during the game. No time at bat shall be scored if the batsman be hit by a pitched ball while standing in his position, and after trying to avoid being so hit, or in case of the pitcher's illegal delivery of the ball to the bat which gives the batsman his base, or when he intentionally hits the ball to the field, purposely to be put out, or if he is given first base on called balls.

SEC. 2. In the second column should be set down the runs made by each player.

SEC. 3. In the third column should be placed the first-base hits made by each player. A base-hit should be scored in the following cases:

When the ball from the bat strikes the ground within the foul lines and out of reach of the fielders.

When a hit ball is partially or wholly stopped by a fielder in motion, but such player cannot recover himself in time to handle the ball before the striker reaches first base.

When the ball is hit with such force to an infielder that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman. (In case of doubt over this class of hits, score a base-hit and exempt the fielder from the charge of an error.)

When a ball is hit so slowly towards a fielder that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman.

That in all cases where a base-runner is retired by being hit by a batted ball, the batsman should be credited with a base-hit.

When a batted ball hits the person or clothing of the umpire, as defined in Rule 49, section 5. In no case shall a base-hit be scored when a base-runner has been forced out by the play.

SEC. 4. In the fourth column shall be placed the sacrifice hits, which shall be credited to the batsman who, when no one is out or when but one man is out, advances a runner a base by a bunt hit, which results in putting out the batsman, or would so result if the ball were handled without error.

Fielding.

SEC. 5. The number of opponents put out by each player shall be set down in the fifth column. Where a batsman is given out by the umpire for a foul strike, or where the batsman fails to bat in proper order, the put-out shall be scored to the catcher. In all cases of "out" for interference, running out of line, or infield fly dropped, the "out" should be credited to the player who would have made the play, but for the action of the base-runner or batsman.

SEC. 6. The number of times the player assists shall be set down in the sixth column. An assist should be given to each player who handles the ball in assisting a run out or other play of the kind.

An assist should be given to a player who makes a play in time to put a runner out, even if the player who could complete the play fails through no fault of the player assisting.

And generally an assist should be given to each player who handles or assists in any manner in handling the ball from the time it leaves the bat until it reaches the player who makes the put-out or in case of a thrown ball, to each player who throws or handles it cleanly and in such a way that a put-out results, or would result if no error were made by the receiver.

Assists should be credited to every player who handles the ball in the play which results in a base-runner being called out for interference or for running out of line.

Errors.

SEC. 7. An error shall be given in the seventh column for each misplay which allows a striker or base-runner to make one or more bases when perfect play would have insured his being put out, except that "wild pitches," "bases on balls," bases on the batsman being struck by a "pitched ball," or in case of illegal pitched balls, balks and passed balls, all of which comprise battery errors, shall not be included in said column. In scoring errors of batted balls see section 3 of this rule.

An error shall not be scored against the catcher for a wild throw to prevent a stolen base, unless the base-runner advances an extra base because of the error.

No error shall be scored against an infielder who attempts to complete a double play, unless the throw is so wild that an additional base is gained.

Stolen Bases.

A stolen base shall be credited to the base-runner whenever he reaches the base he attempts to steal unaided by a fielding or by a battery error or a hit by the batsman.

The Summary shall contain :

RULE 77. SECTION 1. The score made in each innings of the game.

SEC. 2. The number of stolen bases by each player.

SEC. 3. The number of two-base hits made by each player.

SEC. 4. The number of three-base hits made by each player.

SEC. 5. The number of home runs made by each player.

SEC. 6. The number of double and triple plays made by each side and the names of the players assisting in the same.

SEC. 7. The number of innings each pitcher pitched in.

SEC. 8. The number of base-hits made off each pitcher.

SEC. 9. The number of times the pitcher strikes out the opposing batsmen.

SEC. 10. The number of times the pitcher gives bases on balls.

SEC. 11. The number of wild pitches charged to the pitcher.

SEC. 12. The number of times the pitcher hits batsmen with pitched balls.

SEC. 13. The number of passed balls by each catcher.

SEC. 14. The time of the game.

SEC. 15. The name of the umpire.

STORIES OF THE GAME

WANTED HIS RELEASE.

Secretary John H. Farrell could write a very interesting book out of the material he continually receives from ball players, most of whom want to get away from reservation. This winter Mr. Farrell received a well written letter from a young man who was extremely anxious to get away from the Texarkana club. "Late in the season," said he, "I was playing shortstop one day and fumbled two ground balls; on the second one I saw the manager leave the players' bench on a run, so I turned and made for the fence in centre field and before I got over, the manager had taken two shots at me. I didn't go back to settle up and thought I had good grounds for my release."

MURRAY'S HORSE PLAY.

William Murray, manager of the Jersey City club, was for years with the Providence club, both as player and manager. Murray tells of his last appearance on the diamond as follows:

"Chasing the long drives in right field, often picking the ball out from close to the horses' hoofs, I thought I would try the infield, and picked out second base as the position to make my farewell to the game. The first day I hit the lucky number, accepting all of thirteen chances, and was pronounced the real thing by the fans.

"My second attempt at playing the infield was a few chips shy of first money. At Providence the teams are allowed on the grounds, the horses facing the field from back of first base and right field. I had oceans of time to make the first throw, but got the ball high, to see it go bounding in among the teams. Over anxious to make a perfect throw the next time, I got the ball high for the second time, to notice a horse duck his head, and after that every time I got hold of the ball the same horse would duck his head, to the delight of the crowd. At times I think it was that wise old horse that drove me off the diamond."

KID SWALLOWED THE PAGE.

Nelson Long was reserved by the Lawrence club of the New England League, but was anxious to get away and wrote to Secretary Farrell his reasons in a letter of seven pages.

Mr. Farrell read the letter over to find page 1 missing. The six pages received contained no reasons why Long should be released, so Mr. Farrell wrote back, saying he would like to see page 1, as it no doubt contained the grounds on which the player expected to gain his point. The word that came back from Long was to the effect that while he was writing the letter page 1 fell on the floor and was instantly devoured by his little three-year-old son, who was playing close by, and that accounted for his being unable to furnish the desired information. Mr. Long went back to Lawrence.

FACTS FOR THE FANS

The total attendance at the games of the American League for 1902 was 2,212,137. The largest attendance was 23,897, at Philadelphia, September 20, with Boston as the attraction.

The paid attendance at the Philadelphia American ground in 1902 was 411,329. The attendance at the American grounds in Boston was 349,420.

Over 18,000 people witnessed a game on the American grounds at Philadelphia where the Wilmington Athletic club beat the Brandywines by a score of 2 to 1.

John Hatfield's throw of 133 yards 1 foot 7½ inches, made at the Union grounds, Brooklyn, in a throwing tournament, October 15, 1872, has never been equaled. The ball was thrown across the wind and the distance properly measured with a steel tape.

The base running record of Harry Berthrong of 14½ seconds, made at Washington, D. C., in 1868, still stands as the best.

The Pittsburg National League club has the record for most defeats in one season, losing 114 games in 1890.

The major league strike-out record was made by Charley Sweeney at the South End grounds, Boston, in 1884, when the struck out nineteen men.

The largest score on record was made at Buffalo in the '60s. Niagara, 209; Columbias, 10.

Hugh Duffy, with the Boston club in 1894, led the League with the unprecedented batting of .438.

The longest League game was played at Cincinnati, July 30, 1892. Chicago and Cincinnati played twenty innings, with the score 7 each, when darkness stopped the game.

The longest game on record was played at Devil's Lake, N. D., July 18, 1891, when Grand Forks and Fargo played twenty-five innings without a run.

In 1875 Boston won every game played on the home grounds.

In 1869 the Cincinnati Reds traveled from Maine to Trisco, playing all comers, without losing a single game.

The first regular game of base ball ever played was June 14, 1846, at the Elysian Fields, Hoboken, N. J. Knickerbockers vs. New York city.

James H. O'Rourke of the Bridgeport club of the Connecticut League started playing in 1871, and is still doing good work behind the plate and with the stick.

Jim Tyng, a Harvard student, was the first player to use a catcher's mask in a game.

Bobby Lowe made four home runs in as many times at bat off Chamberlain of the Cincinnati club at the Congress grounds, Boston, in 1894.

As an all round ball player Napoleon Lajoie is the acknowledged superior of any ball player yet presented to the public. He has no weaknesses as a ball player, outpointing the late Charles Ferguson.

The longest run of defeats was sustained by Louisville in 1898, when they lost twenty-six straight games.

The National League attendance for 1902 was 1,920,031, New York having the largest attendance, 302,875.

Paul Hines in 1878 and Harry O'Hagan in 1902 completed the only single-handed triple plays ever made.

Names of most of the great players the game has produced in the past, George Wright, Dan Richardson, Al. Spalding, Ross Barnes, Cal McVey, Robert Ferguson, Ed. Cuthbert, Mike McGearly, John Clapp, Jim White, Buck Ewing, Mike Kelley, John F. Morrill, Charles Comiskey, John M. Ward, Andrew Leonard, Tom McCarthy, Harry Storey, Curt Welch, Charley Ferguson, A. How to Play Base Ball

Edited by T. H. Murnane

Specimen illustration from "How to Play Base Ball."

This book is undoubtedly the best work of its kind ever published. It contains instructions for playing every department of the game by such prominent players as Napoleon Lajoie, champion batsman of the National League in 1901; James Collins, of the Boston Americans; Hugh Jennings, of the Philadelphia League Club; Jack Doyle, Cy Young, M. J. Kittridge, Herman Long and Fred Clarke. It contains nearly fifty pages of pictures, showing how the leaders play their respective positions. The department of pitching is especially covered, being illustrated with pictures of many pitchers in action and specially posed photographs showing how to hold the ball for the various curves. No boy who aspires to be a good ball player can afford to be without this book. It will be sent anywhere on receipt of price—

THE A. G. Spalding Autograph Base Ball Bat was introduced last season and made a pronounced hit with the leading batsmen. In quality of material and every other necessary requisite for a first-class article we believe it to be the best bat ever turned out. It has proven exceedingly popular, and this season we have added some new styles that will interest the ball player. The models are those used by the best players, and the autograph stamped on each is a guarantee that every one has passed the closest inspection and is perfect—judged according to our knowledge of base ball players' needs—gained after an experience of twenty-seven years in the manufacture of base ball bats.

Autograph Bat

THE timber is seasoned for three years, not kiln-dried, but seasoned in open sheds; then, after a general inspection, it is passed under the critical eyes of men trained in a factory particularly well equipped for turning out this class of goods. We know of nothing that can be done to make an inspection more rigid, and place these bats before our customers as the finest in every particular that we can turn out.
